Pennsylvania Supreme Court Announces Changes on Lawyers Trust Account Board

HARRISBURG, August 15, 2001 — The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania today announced the appointment of Kenneth M. Jarin, of Philadelphia, and the reappointment of David E. Lehman, of Dauphin County, to the Interest on Lawyers Trust Account Board.

Jarin was appointed to a three-year term, beginning Sept. 1, 2001. Lehman was reappointed to a three-year term, also beginning Sept. 1, 2001.

The board is comprised of nine members appointed by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, which also appoints the board's chairman. Appointments are made based upon recommendation from the Pennsylvania Bar Association, which nominees for two vacancies.

Members serve terms of three years, and may serve maximums of two consecutive terms.

The Interest on Lawyers Trust Account (IOLTA) program was first established in 1988 as a voluntary means to raise money to provide civil legal services to poor Pennsylvanians. The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania made the program mandatory on July 17, 1996.

The program works as follows: clients often ask attorneys to hold particular sums of money for them. When this involves a large amount of money or a lengthy period of time, attorneys invest the money for their clients.

When the amount is small or will be held for a relatively short period of time, however, investing for the client's benefit is not practical. It is these funds which the attorneys place into IOLTA accounts. Interest generated by IOLTA accounts is received by the IOLTA board and used to fund civil legal assistance for indigent Commonwealth residents.
