

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE of PENNSYLVANIA COURTS

Media Advisory – For Planning Only

Dec. 7, 2011

Decorum Order Outlining Media Rules Issued for Sandusky Preliminary Hearing

HARRISBURG – Senior Judge John M. Cleland, the trial judge appointed by the Administrative Office of Pennsylvania Courts to handle matters related to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania vs. Gerald A. Sandusky case, has issued a Decorum Order outlining the rules of conduct of the media and the public during the preliminary hearing. That hearing is scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m. on Dec. 13 in Courtroom 1 of the Centre County Courthouse on North Allegheny St. in Bellefonte.

The order has been posted on the Centre County website along with all other documents and information relating to this case.

Judge Cleland, of McKean County, was assigned to the Sandusky case after all Centre County Common Pleas judges recused themselves. The Decorum Order outlines rules for Courthouse coverage and provides instructions for reporters and members of the public who will be attending the preliminary hearing. Instructions for obtaining credentials to view the hearing are included in the order.

Media contact: Jim Koval, Communications Manager, AOPC
717-231-3324 (office) 717-319-8341 (cell)
Jim.Koval@pacourts.us

www.PACourts.us

###