Judicial District Summary Sheet

County Name: Warren

Judicial District #: 37

Caseload and Magisterial District Elimination Analysis

The difference between the average annual caseload of Judicial District # 37 and its class of county: -40 %

- Possible increase in workload due to Marcellus Shale.

Two of the current districts are within the City of Warren; and given the almost 900 square miles of the county, the proposal considers it important to have one district court outside of Warren. If one district were eliminated, adding staff to existing offices would be problematic because of the county commissioner's reluctance to address facilities.

Summary of Proposed Actions

37-3-01 Reestablish

37-4-01 Realign

Night/Central/Alternate Court Operations

This judicial district utilizes the following diversionary courts to assist in balancing workload:

Central Court: No Night Court: No

- Central Court is held weekly with a schedule rotating coverage by the district judges.
- District judges are active in the Common Pleas problem solving courts initiative.

Dear Mr. Mittleman:

I have enclosed the Magisterial District Judge Reestablishment study for your review. I appreciate the opportunity to provide input to the AOPC regarding our rural community.

In preparation for this study, I met with the Magisterial District Judges on two occasions and also with attorneys who routinely practice before the Magisterial District Judges. On March 1, 2012, the Warren Times Observer published the proposed realignment and included the notice for public comment. To date, I have received no comment. In the event there is a response, I will send the comments to your attention.

Thank you for providing the worksheets and a format to creatively address concerns within our Judicial District. I recognize the importance of the study to the Commonwealth and feel it was beneficial to review trends that will address issues in the future. In the event you would like to further discuss our reestablishment plan, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely yours,

The Honorable Maureen A. Skerda

Warren County has weekly Central Court sessions where a Magisterial District Judge sits at the Courthouse in a specially designated courtroom located in the lower level of the Courthouse. The MDJs share this responsibility on a rotating basis. Recently, the Drug Task Force cooperatively managed by the Attorney General's office and the Warren County District Attorney's office efficiently processed approximately 40 drug cases in addition to the regular court schedule within a two week period. Again, Central Court schedules were adjusted to twice weekly while the MDJs presided at preliminary hearings. While this taxes the individual MDJ offices, with three MDJs there was an active effort to address community needs other than criminal matters at the same time the larger criminal caseload was being addressed.

The MDJs have also been active in several of the Court of Common Pleas initiatives involving problem solving courts. They actively participate with our high school students in a Youth Court for juvenile offenders. This court has been running since 2005. Warren County was one of the first rural counties to implement this program and is pleased at the demonstrated success we have had with this program. Recently, an initiative was proposed at the Dependency Roundtable to utilize an MDJ to develop weekly accountability for truant children as well as parents of truant children or parents with drug and alcohol issues who have no criminal charges. MDJs have also been utilized for Treatment Court, a problem solving court where parties with drug and alcohol issues, mental health issues, and veterans who have criminal charges (who have failed previous efforts at rehabilitation) agree to be seen weekly by the court. While the treatment court is primarily the responsibility of the Court of Common Pleas, there are inevitably scheduling conflicts that require the assistance of a MDJ. Warren County is unique in its approach to problem solving courts choosing to remain flexible while coordinating services with existing resources through the Intermediate Punishment grants and local dollars for mental health and substance abuse. Thus, utilizing MDJs to assist with the cases is necessary and of importance to our rural community.

We also analyzed the significance of the impact of Marcellus and Utica development in the future. While there is no measurable data at this time in Warren County, there is an increase in title work that may indicate a trend for the future.

As Warren County is 889 square miles, it is important to have one MDJ office located outside of the city of Warren. Given the proximity of the State Police Barracks, Youngsville remains a good central location. When the Court examined staffing in all three MDJ offices, the Court recognized that all three offices have two full time staff. In order to reduce the number of MDJs and run efficiently, the Court observed that most offices had three full time staff per office site. Evaluating the two current facilities utilized by the MDJs in Warren and North Warren, neither office could house a third staff member or be reconfigured in a way to house a third staff member. The Warren County Commissioners have not supported even minor renovations to the offices, i.e., carpet and paint, so it is unlikely they will support locating new facilities and new facility renovations.

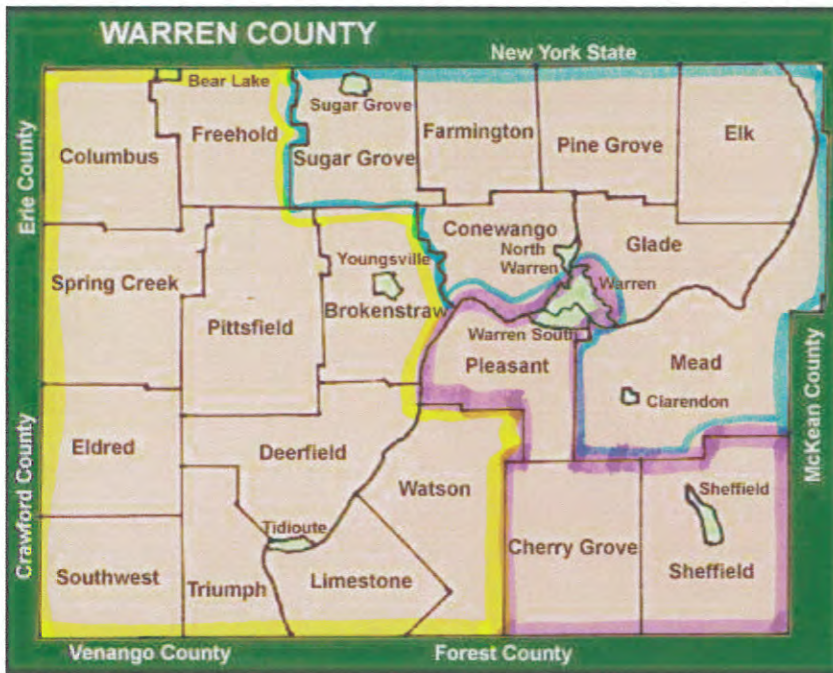

The Court also analyzed the historical implications of realignment by referring to the last two realignment plans for the court. In 1992, the Honorable Robert L. Wolfe consolidated a number of satellite MDJ offices to address the efficiency of the system. In 2002, the Honorable Paul H. Millin reduced the number of MDJs in Warren County by eliminating the Sheffield office and consolidating the satellite office in Tidioute with the Youngsville office. Ultimately, the Sheffield office closed in 2008 and the consolidation of the Tidioute office took place in 2011 when the Youngsville office was relocated. As the Youngsville office had the smallest weighted case load according to the statewide statistical information, the Court achieved a better distribution of cases by increasing its township responsibilities by adding Pleasant Township to its caseload.

NOTICE

Skerda, of the Thirty-Seventh Judicial District submits for public comment the proposed realignment of the magisterial districts 37-2-01 located at 333 Hickory Street, Warren, PA and 37-4-01 located at 37 Railroad Street, Youngsville, PA in accordance with reestablishment guidelines under Article V, Section 7(b) and Section 10 of the Pennsylvania Guidelines. The proposed change transfers Pleasant Township from magisterial district 37-2-01 to magisterial district 37-4-01 in order to achieve caseload equity. No change is proposed for magisterial district 37-3-01 located at 1585 Market Street, Warren, PA. The proposed effective date for this change will be on the first Monday of January, 2013.
