BALDWIN, P.J.

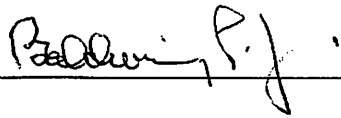

AND NOW, this 14th day of October, 2020, while most employees and elected or appointed County and Judicial officials have been entering the Courthouse when personnel are available to monitor their temperatures, those who first come to the Courthouse on a given day after the assigned personnel have concluded monitoring temperatures at the North Entrance may not always report to the Sheriff to have their temperatures checked. All employees and elected or appointed County and Judicial officials, when entering the Courthouse for the first time on a given day, shall enter only through the Public Entrance at the west end of the building, the Laurel Street entrance on the south end, or the North Entrance from the parking lot.

2. If no personnel are available to monitor their temperature when first entering the building for the day, every employee and elected or appointed County and Judicial official shall present him/herself either to the personnel manning the public entrance or to the Sheriff's Office for a temperature check.
