

The Role of a Jury

In Criminal Cases: A jury decides whether a defendant is guilty or not guilty

In Civil Cases: A jury decides whether a defendant is liable or not liable

Juries are primarily used in common pleas courts.

Even when a jury is permitted, both sides in a case can agree to have the case tried before a judge instead.*