

Law Clerk

Established in 1968, the Commonwealth Court of Pennsylvania is an intermediate appellate court responsible for matters involving state and local governments and appeals from state agencies and the Courts of Common Pleas. The Commonwealth Court is unique as it sits as both an appeals and trial court. Therefore, you get two experiences in one. You will be joining a distinguished and well-respected organization that provides employees with appropriate compensation, excellent benefits, and opportunities to learn and grow.

The Honorable President Judge Renée Cohn Jubelirer is accepting applicants for a term law clerk within her Harrisburg chambers. The interested individual will interact with the Judge and staff extensively while researching complex legal issues that are before the court in its original jurisdiction. This position will provide the clerk with foundational experience and is well suited for a recent law school graduate or for an individual with legal experience. Outstanding research and writing skills are required.
