ORDER

PER CURIAM

AND NOW, this 23rd day of October, 2026, the Application to Intervene, filed by Devell Christian, and the Application to Intervene, filed by Sidney McLean, are DENIED.

Petitioners' "Motion to Correct Petition" is GRANTED.

Petitioners' "Motion to Supplement Petition" is GRANTED to the extent it seeks leave to append affidavits to that ancillary submission. It is NOTED that, in granting such leave to supplement, this Court is rendering no pronouncement as to the admissibility of such affidavits in any proceeding and does not adjudicate any credibility challenges regarding such affidavits.

Petitioners' "Second Motion to Supplement" is GRANTED to the extent it seeks leave to provide a factual update as to the status of Petitioner Joshua George's underlying criminal case. In all other respects, the "Second Motion to Supplement" is DENIED.

Petitioners' "Motion for Leave to File Reply" is GRANTED to the extent it seeks leave to file a reply and is denied in all other respects.

The “Petition Requesting Exercise of Extraordinary Jurisdiction and/or Issuance of a Writ of Mandamus” is DENIED. See Commonwealth v. Cox, 102 EM 2018 (per curiam order dated Sept. 26, 2019) (in the context of miscellaneous matters that sought a declaration that all existing death sentences violated the Pennsylvania Constitution, declining to exercise King’s Bench or extraordinary jurisdiction; instead finding that review was to be conducted via “individual cases, subject to the jurisdictional limits of the post-convictions courts”).
