CONCURRING AND DISSENTING STATEMENT

JUSTICE MUNDY FILED: May 12, 2023

Although I agree that we should grant allocatur in these matters, I dissent to disposing them in per curiam orders affirming the nonprecedential opinion of Judge Wallace and vacating the order of Judge Fizzano Cannon. In these cases, this Court was presented with petitions for allowance of appeal primarily regarding two nonprecedential single-judge decisions of the Commonwealth Court, which differed on the interpretation of the requirements of Sections 1701 and 1703 of the Election Code, 25 P.S. §§ 3261, 3263, to obtain a recount based on general averments of error or fraud. No prior decision of our Court has addressed this issue.

When confronted with petitions for allowance of appeal concerning a holding of an intermediate appellate court that conflicts with another intermediate appellate court opinion or presenting a question of first impression for this Court, our standard procedure is to grant discretionary review. See Pa.R.A.P. 1114(b)(1) and (3). I see no reason to forgo that procedure here. Instead, following our standard procedure would enable the Court to receive developed briefing, hear oral argument, and issue a precedential decision resolving the issue. It is particularly appropriate in these cases as we are confronted with two reasonable, albeit differing, single-judge opinions concerning the proper interpretation of Sections 1701 and 1703. Accordingly, I dissent to resolving these cases through per curiam orders adopting a nonprecedential single-judge opinion of the Commonwealth Court instead of following our traditional procedure of granting discretionary review, receiving briefs, hearing oral argument, and issuing an opinion.
